

The Year of the Natural Shoreline

Sign up now for shoreline events

This summer the Environment Council for Clear, Ston(e)y and White Lakes is turning the spotlight on shorelines -- making 2019 the Year of the Natural Shoreline.

We've lined up three interactive events to help the lake community learn how natural shorelines protect the health of our lakes and how to restore altered shorelines.

Shoreline Naturalization Workshop

Saturday, July 13, 9 am to noon at the USLA Pavilion, 2378 Crowe's Landing Road, Upper Stoney Lake

At this interactive shoreline workshop, Douglas Kennedy of Green Side Up Environmental Landscaping will explain how natural shorelines protect water quality and the many benefits they provide to owners and wildlife. Then Doug and an associate will coach you on a concept design and native plants suited to your own property.

Camp Kawartha Shoreline Naturalization Project -- Volunteer Planting Day

Saturday, August 17, 9 am until completion at 1010 Birchview Road, southeast shore of Clear Lake

Environment Council, Camp Kawartha and a number of generous donors are partnering to naturalize a large section of the Camp's shoreline. This will help protect the lake and wildlife, enhance the Camp's environmental education programs and enable Environment Council to show lake residents the advantages of natural shorelines.

Please come and be part of this exciting project. We need at least two dozen energetic volunteers to plant over 1,000 native shrubs and wildflowers, under the guidance of our landscaper.

Guided Shoreline Tour

Sunday, September 22, 2 to 4 pm at Camp Kawartha, 1010 Birchview Road on Clear Lake

Visit the newly restored Camp Kawartha shoreline project area with the environmental landscaper who helped make it happen. See the improvements made, learn how the work was done, and how you can apply these ideas to your own waterfront.

Please register well in advance for these events

-- email info@environmentcouncil.ca. Specify which event(s) you are signing up for, and please provide full contact information so we can give you details as the dates approach.
